Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The building commonly known as Walker's Store is located on the south-east corner of the intersection of Darlington Road and Stafford Road in the town of Darlington.

The building serves as both a store and a residence, and has evidently gone through a relatively complex construction sequence. The principal structure lies parallel to Stafford Road. It is two stories high, six bays long, and one room deep, with a partially enclosed porch extending the length of this facade. A single chimney is centered on the pitched gable roof. Asphalt shingle siding covers earlier weatherboard siding, which evidently conceals the early hewn log construction of the east portion of the building. The windows are fitted with 6/6 sash.

A two story wing with a pitched gable roof projects from the west portion of the rear facade, parallel to Darlington Road. A second chimney rises from the center of this rear wing. The windows in the wing are also 6/6, but are irregularly spaced. The large fireplace in the rear wing has been blocked up but appears to be otherwise unaltered. An early staircase to the loft has been removed.

A one story addition was later constructed to the rear of the store and abutting the early wing.

Evidence of hewn log construction has been found by the present owners in two distinctly separate parts of the building. While replacing the flooring in the floor of the store, it was determined that the east half of the main building was of log construction, and while installing a washing machine log walls were found in the rear or south half of the early wing. These two log sections did not appear to be joined and were thought to be two distinctly separate structures that form the earliest part of the present building.

This brief investigation of the building suggests that the Walker Store is one of the earliest buildings in Darlington and merits a more detailed analysis.

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

The Walker Store is considered to be the earliest building in Darlington. It is sited in the fork of the road north from the early town of Joppa and the road inland from Shure's Landing or Stafford and Lapidum. Believed by native Fred Jones and others to be the old "Red Store" or "Red Door Store" of Col. Rigbie (also see HA-4, HA-10, HA-11), the evidence of two early log structures within the existing building is indicative that this may be an accurate attribution.

Although the actual date of construction is unknown, the building has been used continuously as a store for generations and today carries a variety of goods ranging from heifer halters and hip boots to frozen foods and witty greeting cards.

Two log buildings underly this Frame building, asphalt shingle covering clapboard over various ages of wood construction. Building is a home and a general store. The store area is shaded,
 Two stories, six bays ^{on sketch below} facing north with ridgetine running east-west, there is a long porch partly enclosed, along the first floor ^(x1) A chimney (C1) rises from the middle of the roof, center of bldg.
 There is a wing running south ~~at the~~ ^{up to} the west wall.
~~end of the~~, windows here are irregularly spaced, (six lights on six, as elsewhere). A second chimney (C2) rises out of the ridgetine of the roof of this wing. The angle of the wall back from the facade is ~~not~~ under a true 90° . (A one-story addition to the store is shown ^{on sketch x-2})

The ~~Walters~~ have found two sets of log walls. In replacing flooring in the store they found log timbers in approximately the area shown as Area A. Later in drilling for an electric cable for a workshop machine in Area B they found log walls still standing, not contiguous with Area A.

The large existing fireplace in Area B is blocked off but undamaged, presumably.
 A ^{carved} stair case ^{now removed} once led to a left porch.

③

Archaeological evidence is sought to corroborate: this is thought to be the first building in Darlington, and stands at the fork of the road north from Lappa and the road westward from Sherar's Landing or Stafford and Lapibum. Believed by natives Fred Jones and others to be the old "Red Store" or "Red Door Store" of Col. Regbie (HA 4, HA 10, 11), the finding of two separate sets of log walls indicates that this is ^{one} of the first five or ten buildings in this part of the county, perhaps the oldest.

~~Antiquarianism~~

Used as a store continuously for two hundred and thirty years, it now carries a variety of goods from kiefen baltns and hip boots to frozen foods and ~~the same old same~~ witty greeting cards.
